TRANSAMINE BECOMES SIGNIFICANT SHAREHOLDER IN KASBAH

Following release of the Notice of Initial Substantial Holder today, Kasbah Resources Limited (Kasbah or the Company) is pleased to report that Transamine have become a significant shareholder in the Company.

Transamine is a global non-ferrous trading house and is one of the oldest, independent, privately held commodities trading companies in the world specialising in raw materials.

Transamine provides services in marketing, raw material sourcing, finance and investment worldwide, with a core business focus on non-ferrous metals. In recent years Transamine has increased its activity in providing financial support to junior and emerging mining companies with recent strategic alliances, placements or off take agreements with:

- Discovery Metals Limited (ASX: DML),
- Citadel Resource Group Limited (ASX: CGG),
- Terramin Australia Limited (ASX: TZN) and
- Kagara Limited (ASX: KZL).

Kasbah Managing Director Wayne Bramwell said that;

“This on-market purchase of Kasbah shares by Transamine is a strategic move. Transamine are seeking new sources of tin concentrates worldwide and like Kasbah, are very active in Morocco.

This is the third tin industry heavyweight to recognise the size of the prize at Achmmach. The entry of Transamine onto the Kasbah register is yet another endorsement of the growing profile of the Achmmach Tin Project and the serious supply challenges facing the global tin industry”.

The Board of Kasbah welcomes Transamine to our register as the Company enters an exciting phase in its development.

Ends.
